Legal base and details:

If a state or territory is overseas, the state will be allocated the maximum possible amount of votes (not drivable according to Google Maps). Largest city is based on the 2010 United States Census. All distances are in miles.

YDA Charter, Article III - Section 370(b) Minimum Unit Delegation to Vote Ratio; Mileage Formula

Chartered units shall be permitted to cast votes allocated under the provisions of the Charter and the Bylaws provided that each unit is represented by registered Delegates, present in person, whose aggregate number does not fall below the votes per delegate ratio established according to state driving mileage from each unit's territorial capitol or largest city, whichever is furthest, to the site of the National Convention as follows: One (1) to five hundred (500) miles, one (1) delegate for every two (2) votes; five hundred one (501) to one thousand (1000) miles, one (1) delegate for every three (3) votes; one thousand one (1001) to one thousand five hundred (1500) miles, one (1) delegate for every four (4) votes; one thousand five hundred one (1501) to two thousand five hundred (2500) miles, one (1) delegate for every five (5) votes; any distance in excess of two thousand five hundred (2500) miles, one (1) delegate for every six (6) votes. Not less than sixty (60) days prior to each National Convention, the Chair of the Standing Committee on Credentials shall prepare a chart derived by the mileage indicated in the current Rand McNally Atlas or comparable mapping standard, of each chartered unit's driving mileage from territorial capitol to convention site, along with the delegate to vote ratio derived therefrom.
